

Personal guidance... Making choices

To help you prepare for your option choices, listed below and on the next page are a series of questions that will help guide your decision-making process.

1. How do I know where I am now? Look at your levels, reports and think about comments from your teachers. This should help you work out where your strengths are.

Subjects I like...	Subjects I am good at...
Subjects I dislike...	Subjects I find difficult...

2. Have you thought about what career you are looking for in the future? If the answer is yes, which subjects do you need to help you move in this direction?

If the answer is no, what range of subjects would be best for you in the longer term?
